

Lt Colonel Drew Roberts is serving as an Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT) Fellow at the University of North Texas. He is studying the First World War with Dr. Wawro.

Major Roberts is an Electronic Warfare Officer on the RC-135 V/W Rivet Joint with over 1600 flying hours, including over 400 combat hours. He has flown and deployed in support of Operations ENDURING FREEDOM, IRAQI FREEDOM, AND INHERENT RESOLVE. He also served as an exchange officer with the Royal Air Force for three years, deploying twice in support of Operation SHADER.

Prior to arriving at the University of North Texas, Major Roberts was a Fellow at Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Alabama. In this position, he taught leadership and joint warfighting to U.S. Air Force captains and civilian leaders before becoming a student at Air Command and Staff College.

Major Roberts was commissioned into the Air Force at Florida State University through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program. He holds a Master of Arts in Strategic Intelligence from American Military University and a Masters of Military Operational Art and Science from Air University. He has been selected to join the faculty of Air Command and Staff College following his PhD Fellowship.

Drew Roberts

