

Tiffany Smith Chamberlain

Tiffany holds a BA and MA in history from Texas Woman's University and earned her PhD in history from the University of North Texas in 2019. She has taught at Texas Woman's University, the University of North Texas, Grayson College, and currently is a Professor of History at Tarrant County College. Smith Chamberlain's research focuses on Selective Service conscription and manpower usage during the World Wars.

